ENR Mountain States is pleased to announce the winners of its 2018 Best Projects competition across a seven-state region that includes Utah, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming, North Dakota and South Dakota.

A panel of nine judges from all areas of the industry—architects, GCs, green consultants, virtual designers and engineers—selected winners and merit awards from the 124 total entries this year.

This is our 18th year for the project awards, which are detailed below. In addition to the awards listed, we are presenting safety awards to deserving projects, and one project in each area (Intermountain and Colorado/Wyoming/Dakotas) will win top honors as the Project of the Year, along with some judges' special recognitions. The safety winners are listed at the end of the project awards for each area. We will announce the Best Overall Projects at a later date.

The awards are split into the two areas, as noted above, to correspond with their respective awards events. They are listed by areas below.

Projects will be covered in more detail in the October issue of ENR Mountain States, and the winners honored at breakfast awards events in Denver and Salt Lake City in the last week of October.

If you have questions, please call (303-526-0620) or e-mail me (Mark Shaw, Editor-in-Chief, ENR Mountain States) at shawm@enr.com.

Congratulations to the winners!
